PRAYER REQUESTS and PRAISES

- Continue to pray for Theo Hodges. She is gradually getting stronger and has had some adjustment in her medication. She will be wearing a heart monitor for a month and after her cardiologist has the results, there may be further adjustments in her medication. Pray for continued wisdom and for grace and strength each day.
- At the writing of the bulletin, Lenora Holley was in Roanoke Memorial Hospital to begin dialysis. Be in prayer for Lenora and Ray as Lenora goes through these treatments and as they train to dialyze her at home.
- Thank God for Liz Williams' safe return home this week from Sitka, Alaska where Dr. Sam will continue to serve at the Tlingit tribal hospital until May 4. Sam says, "It's been wonderful to share Christian fellowship as well as be salt and light in that remote and spiritually-needy place. A special blessing is that the other surgeon is a fellow believer—a Wheaton grad." Pray for a smooth week of R&R and reloading for Sam before his departure for Togo, W. Africa on May 12.
- Continue to remember John Austin and his co-workers as they lead their weekly Diplomat Lunch Discussion Series on Wednesdays, and Joanne and her co-workers as they lead the spring series of weekly Bible studies and Conversational English Classes for wives of diplomats on Tuesdays.
- Becky Gurley has requested prayer for her aunt, Millie Couture, to whom she is very close. Millie has had her third recurrence of cancer in three years. She is waiting for a decision on a course of treatment and remains positive that the Lord will sustain her and give her His peace.
- Continue to pray for Fred Burklin who is fighting cancer; and Scott and Carolyn White, as Scott recovers from extensive surgery on his foot.
